The Call-A-Head Corporation is about solving sanitary problems and one of the biggest sanitary problems is washing facilities, where there is no access to running water. The Portable Sink offered by Call-A-Head solves this problem and also fills all Health Dept. and OSHA requirements at the same time. Both these organizations simply state where there are portable toilets there must be washing facilities. This is easily accomplished with the portable sink, constructed of heavy duty polyethylene with four wash stations, foot pedal faucet action, built in paper towel holders and soap dispensers. This unit is the perfect solution to solve all washing facility needs and requirements for all applications. It is very important for Call-A-Head to choose items that work, and we feel after process of elimination that this is the best sink available in today's market.
